

Wild Clover Farm to celebrate World Hoop Day

Wild Clover Farm will be celebrating World Hoop Day on 4 October, 2014, with a day of colour, dance, entertainment and hula-hooping fun. The global event aims to spread joy to all people, young and old and to those less fortunate, through the joy and the craft of hooping.

Hula hoops have been around for centuries and, since the 1950s' craze, they have seen a massive revival. This fun activity, for all ages and fitness levels, is now creating circles of love around the world and South Africans will, no doubt, be showing their support.

World Hoop Day at the Wild Clover will be jam-packed with entertainment, such as free art and hula hooping workshops, hoop games, circus and fire performances, small petting farm, face painting, as well as great music entertainment by Mark Haze, Manouche, K Ray and the Bird with the gorgeous actress Nikki Jackman as MC.

Entertainment for kids

There will be plenty of entertainment for kids, and a fully stocked bar for adults, as well as a selection of delicious food and craft stalls. There will also be a Guinness World Record attempt for the 'Greatest distance travelled on a slack line while juggling three objects' - live from the festival.

"World Hoop Day 2014 is about creating spaces for people of all ages, races, genders, sizes and religions to come together for a day of fun," said Basil John Scordilis, co-founder of HoopFlowLove . "It's about experiencing health, joy and love through movement of the body, and we invite people from all walks of life to join us in celebrating this day."

Proceeds from the day will be going towards The UPliftment Programme and its subsidiary SA Hoop For Life.

Tickets are R60 and are available from Quicket. Kids under three get in free.
