

Action-packed line-up at Hill Fest 2016

An action packed line-up of sports and entertainment is planned for the inaugural Hill Fest, an outdoor celebration focussing on community, family and fun, taking place at The Durban Shongweni Club from 25 to 27 March, 2016.

Catering for all ages and interests, Hill Fest 2016 will have train rides, slides and inflatables to keep the children entertained while the sports' enthusiasts will be kept busy with the beach sports' programme, including touch rugby, beach volleyball and beach football. All the necessary gear will be provided for participants on the day.

Master motorbike acrobat Brian Capper will captivate spectators with his superhuman feats of balance on his specially designed trail bike. Also showing off incredible motorbike skill will be some of the country's top Freestyle Motorcross (FMX) riders including the world renowned 'Sick' Nick de Wit, and his team, who will perform some death-defying stunts.

For the performers in the crowd, there will be regular opportunities to take to the stage for an enjoyable dance off, and everyone will enjoy the Dig for Gold treasure hunt where hidden surprises from R30 to R3000 are just waiting to be found.

Fitness demonstrations

Top athletes will show off their prowess during a series of fitness demonstrations that will inform those looking to get in shape of some fun and easy fitness techniques. Animal lovers will also be treated to a fun animal demonstration where four-legged friends will display their talents.

For those wanting to browse quality products, leading local businesses will be displaying everything from cars to a range of useful lifestyle products - and everything in-between - while in the arts and crafts section, home made and handmade are the order of the day.

With so much to see and do at Hill Fest 2016, visitors will enjoy a refreshment break in the food court and beer garden where an abundance of choice is available. Well-known local brands, including Afro's Chicken and Stoker's Arms, will be in attendance. And to provide some top-quality musical entertainment, James Robertson of Cubic Inch will be performing.

Tickets are now available at www.ticketpros.co.za. Cost is R80 for adults and R40 for children under 12.
