

Impact of budget speech on SA agriculture

Paul Makube, senior agricultural economist at FNB Business and Dawie Maree, head of marketing and information for agriculture at FNB Business has given a brief analysis of the 2018 budget speech and the impact it will most likely have on South Africa's agricultural industry.

The analysis considers impact based on the budgetary allocations, land restitution, the support of spaces that have been impacted by the water shortage, and also looks at the implication of supporting new startup farmers.
