

Grey South Africa appoints new chief financial officer

Attish Harichunder has been named Grey South Africa's new chief financial officer, replacing Anneliza Alberts. Harichunder began his career in audit at KPMG and has since held numerous finance leadership positions in a variety of industries. Over the past decade, he has held leadership positions at WPP's JWT, now Wunderman Thompson and TBWA.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>