

John Bailey is eNCA's new managing editor

News channel eNCA has appointed John Bailey as its new managing editor. Bailey has over 25 years' experience in the news industry and has been with eNCA for 12 years, with his stint as eNCA's bureau chief in China being one of his career highlights.

His appointment as the managing editor cements eNCA's plans to strengthen its news offering with powerful content delivered in eNCA's inimitable no fear, no favour style.
