

Tin Can appointed by SAXON hotel, winner of the 2003 prestigious "World's Leading Boutique Hotel Award"

Tin Can has been appointed publicist for the exclusive SAXON hotel, winner of the prestigious 2003 "World's Leading Boutique Hotel Award" announced at the global annual World Travel Awards in New York recently.

Tin Can will be responsible for promoting the Saxon's offerings including its accommodation, eateries and conferencing, as well as its exclusive Essence Skin and Body health care centre.

Nestled in the exclusive Sandton suburb of Sandhurst, the Saxon, part of the renowned Mantis group of global boutique hotels and game reserves, makes a world-class statement of ethnic African elegance, combined with personalised attention to detail.

The SAXON is steeped in history and was home to Nelson Mandela after he was released from prison, which used the serene setting of Saxon to edit his autobiography Long walk to Freedom.
