

Jetting in

Linda Mali has been appointed editor of the Jet Club magazine as of 1 March 2011. She has a BA in Media and Writing and Industrial Sociology from UCT and joined the founding team of Touchline Media's custom publishing division, where she wrote for Discovery, MTN Business and Horizons and managed the in-house titles distributed globally for Sanlam Investments. She became a feature writer for Cosmopolitan magazine. Mali helped found the Cape-based forum, African Women in Media and is also one of the strategic developers of The South African Network Alliance - a business networking forum which reaches out to young professionals across various industries.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>