

Mango named Best Low Cost Airline in Africa

Mango was named the Best Low Cost Airline in Africa at the World Airline Awards presented by Skytrax and hosted at the world renowned Farnborough Air Show.

The recognition places Mango in the Top 100 global airlines for 2014 following a global customer satisfaction voting process late last year. Airline CEO Nico Bezuidenhout received the award on behalf of the company and its team.

"This award recognises every one of our team of 600 colleagues at Mango," says Bezuidenhout. "The singular is only ever as good as the sum of the collective and being counted among the world's best highlights the tireless effort of our team over the past 8 years." Since its launch Mango has continued to innovate in the domestic aviation sector and, along with its philosophy of constant and never ending improvement, the carrier has become the airline for all the people of South Africa.
