

New mall opening in Nelspruit

The l'Langa Mall will open on 29 April 2010 in Nelspruit with a number of national retailers debuting in Nelspruit at the mall and joining other South African favourites and some original local stores.

Centrally located, with access off the N4 highway, it is highly visible and is the latest landmark for the town of Nelspruit and the surrounding area. As evidence of the mall's appeal and leading retailers' confidence in the centre, l'Langa Mall is almost fully let.

It was developed after market research revealed a need for a centre of this standard and scale in Nelspruit. Independent studies undertaken by national retailers with an interest in extending their own footprint into the Nelspruit region also supported these findings.
