

Bolton Footwear names Masuku sales manager

Bolton Footwear has appointed Sihle Masuku as its men's formal sales manager. Masuku started his retail career at the men's department at Edgars in 2000 after obtaining a business management diploma from the South West Gauteng College.

In 2012, Masuku received awards for running the best store and leadership as well as a certificate for exceeding annual sales targets for the 2011/2012 fiscal year. Masuku has now been tasked with all sales related activities which will include working to achieve targets set for each season.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>