

Hailing from Limpopo, the Ndlovu Youth Choir became a household name after they reached the final of America's Got Talent and captured the hearts and minds of viewers around the world – emerging as proud ambassadors for a united South Africa.

“ We are extremely excited and honoured to be working with the amazing @SimonCowell, @syco and @SonyMusicAfrica. Our young singers represent the talent and potential of millions of young people around the world. If you can dream it, you can do it! #WeAreOnlyGettingStarted 🎵🎵🎵🎵🎵🎵❤️📌 pic.twitter.com/xr79M3p2ft— Ndlovu Youth Choir (@ChoirAfrica) September 28, 2019 ”

“We are extremely excited and honoured to be working with Simon Cowell, Syco Entertainment and Sony Music Entertainment Africa. Our young singers represent the talent and potential of millions of young South Africans. Our nation is bursting with talent and we look forward to sharing the beauty of our music with the world. If you can dream it, you can do it,” conductor Ralf Schmitt proudly exclaimed when questioned about their new venture.

Ending off their run on America's Got Talent by collaborating with Norwegian superstar DJ, Kygo, and performing "Higher Love" alongside him at the finale, The Ndlovu Youth Choir went out with a resounding bang.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>