

Paul Hinch to judge communication design category at Loeries

Paul Hinch, creative partner at design and branding agency Grid, has been selected as a judge at the upcoming Loeries Awards, South Africa's premier showcase of advertising and communication industry creativity.

Hinch will judge work in the communication design category.

He is a previous member of the judging panels at the Student Loeries, the Young Creatives Awards, the Sappi Think Ahead awards programme and the Antalis Art of Design Awards.
