Juniper Research presents Top 10 Tech Trends 2019 webinar

There's still time to join Juniper Research, on 29 November at 2PM GMT, to hear their top 10 technology predictions for 2019.

The one hour webinar will reveal which trends will be prevalent and explains how these will impact the market and the key players within it.

This will be a fast-paced webinar, delivering the key points via analyst presentation, infographics, and a Q&A session at the end. A copy of the webinar presentation will be offered to all participants.
