

Play Like Mum reckons British Airways is the best family-friendly airline

British toy company Play Like Mum named British Airways as the Best Family-Friendly Airline. The company had compared 20 international airlines on how easy they make the travel experience for families.

Play Like Mum praised the airline for offering families pre-boarding, giving children their own free checked luggage allowance plus a free allowance for a pushchair and car seat, complimentary special kids meals on longer flights, special children's in-flight entertainment, and free carrycots and baby seats onboard flights.
