

Final call for Mondi Shanduka Lifetime Achiever Award

The deadline for last minute nominations for the 2006 Mondi Shanduka Lifetime Achiever Award has been extended until Friday, 9 March 2007, at 11am. Part of the Mondi Shanduka Newspaper Awards, this award recognises sustained and extraordinary contribution to newspaper journalism on the part of an individual whose journalism career should have spanned at least 20 years.

Individuals may be nominated by means of a written letter of motivation with supporting material (press cuttings/testimonials) where possible. The letter should address the reasons why the nominee is deserving of this recognition. There is no entry fee for this award.

This is the third year of the Lifetime Achiever Awards. Previous winners include David Hazelhurst and the late Dr Aggrey Klaaste.
