

iWeek conference boosts exhibition space

iWeek, the Internet Service Providers' Association of SA (ISPA) and UniForum SA's annual gathering, will have 450 square metres of floor space available to exhibitors this year at its new The Castle Kyalami location. This should attract greater numbers of delegates and provide vendors with the opportunity to profile products and services specifically targeted at Internet service providers (ISPs). Taking place from 4 - 7 September 2006, delegate attendance is free: register at www.ispa.org.za/iweek/2006/ prior to the conference.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>