

Greenpop celebrates its Trees for Zambia project, its second birthday, and spring

Greenpop is inviting everyone to come to celebrate its recent Trees for Zambia project, its second birthday and the start of spring, which will be held in two parts on Saturday, 8 September, 2012, at The Assembly, Harrington Street, Cape Town.

Part one kicks off at 7.15pm on with a presentation on Greenpop's recent Trees for Zambia project. The first screening of the Trees for Zambia highlights film made by Makhulu Productions and a beautiful photo show by Sydelle Willow Smith, as well as some awesome surprises.

In part two, doors re-open at 8.15pm for and the party starts with the coolest line-up Cape Town has to offer:

- Jeremy Loops and Co
- Larry Joe Live
- The Little Kings
- TouchWood
- Cold Turkey
- Awesome DJs and more

Greenpop has also partnered Bicycle CPT this year and a large group will be cycling to the party. To join them, register at <http://goo.gl/NoqaK> Stand a chance to win a full Levi's Commuter kit by riding.

Tickets cost R40 for pre-sold at Webtickets or R60 at the door.

Green your ticket (R120) and win

Go to Webtickets, search for Cool as Folk at Assembly and choose the Green Ticket option, Greenpop will then plant a tree on your behalf and send you a Tree Certificate with your tree's GPS co-ordinates. You'll also be entered into a raffle to win a cool eco product hamper.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>