

Kongos to support Linkin Park on SA tour

It has been announced that Kongos will support Linkin Park for their two stadium shows on 7 November at Cape Town Stadium and 10 November at the Soccer City Complex, FNB Stadium, Joburg.

Kongos is a rock band of four brothers - Johnny, Jesse, Dylan and Danny Kongos. In 2010, Kongos started Tokoloshe Records with their father John Kongos (a renowned multi-million-seller South African singer- songwriter). Through their label they released their new album "Lunatic", which reached number one of the Look and Listen chart. Their first single, I'm Only Joking, received 15 weeks of heavy rotation on 5FM as well as many other stations in South Africa. The music video premiered on TV 5 and is in rotation on MKTV. The second single, Come With Me Now, broke into the Top 40 on 5FM and the third single, Escape, reached number nine on the 5FM Top 40.

Linkin Park shot to international fame with their debut album, "Hybrid Theory" in 2000. Over the course of their career, the band sold over 50 million albums worldwide, with Platinum album sales in 34 countries and five continents. Linkin Park are known for a long list of chart-topping hits, including: Crawling, Breaking The Habit, Numb, What I've Done, New Divide, and Waiting For The End.

Tour itinerary

Cape Town: 7 November. Cape Town Stadium. Tickets from R315 to R690.

Joburg: 10 November. The Soccer City, Complex, FNB Stadium. Tickets from R315 to R690.

Tickets are still available for the Cape Town concert from Computicket www.computicket.com or from Computicket Call Centres 0861 915 8000 or any Shoprite/Checkers outlet.

For complete tour and ticket information, go to www.linkinpark.com