

Bittereinder working on new album

Bittereinder are currently working on a follow-up album to their debut album "'n Ware Verhaal", which is expected to go on sale before the end of 2012 and will feature guest appearances from the likes of Toast Coetzer, Hunter Kennedy, HemelBesem and Andries Bezuidenhout.

One of the tracks, Die Dinkdansmasjien, has already brought fans to their feet and up in the air at live shows. Peach, Jaco and Louis are planning to bring out all the stops and are already busy working with some of South Africa's most prolific artists.

Visual visionary, Louis Minnaar, is also busy upgrading the group's live shows. Fans can now bond harder than ever before with originally designed threads and other merchandise that will be on sale at shows.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>