

Sports and lifestyle brand arrives in SA

The sports and lifestyle brand, Ogio will be available in South Africa through promotional and corporate clothing suppliers, Mass Supply Clothing. The launch includes the introduction of golf shirts and assorted bags such as duffels, backpacks and laptop bags from the brand's promotional and corporate range. This range has previously been launched in North and South America and Europe and has met with success in these markets. It has recently signed a clothing endorsement deal with the PGA tour golfer, Aaron Baddeley and has a list of more than 100 Pro Tour golfers travelling with its bags.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>