

Corporate defence - information protection

CBIA is offering a specialised business counterintelligence awareness briefing to help organisations understand how to improve business performance using a practical, thorough process to protect their confidential information and intellectual property.

Successful businesses are all doing a good job by protecting their own secrets and intellectual property.

The business climate has changed dramatically and business professionals, their PA's, secretaries and staff need to become knowledgeable on measures to protect their confidential business information. Recent industry surveys, enquiries and reports have shown that there is a strong demand for awareness training regarding the protection of corporate information.

This briefing goes beyond the traditional protection of guards, gates, dogs, firewalls, software, etc. CBIA has developed an awareness programme that is considered to be one of the best in the world.
