Commenting on the partnership with the GSMA, Executive for Corporate Affairs at MTN Group, Chris Maroleng said, "The group is at the coalface of the mobile evolution underway in the majority of its markets, where it is enabling customers to access financial and digital services through mobile devices. The sponsorship of the event gives the group an opportunity to take an active role in engagements that seek to move the continent closer to realising the promise of mobile."

Looking at mobile in Africa

Mobile 360-Africa serves as an extension of previously established GSMA events, including the Mobile for Development Summit and the Mobile Money for the Unbanked Leadership Forum. These events are featured as co-located programmes, showcasing the progress of initiatives already benefitting millions within the region.

"Sub-Saharan Africa is one of the fastest-growing regions globally, with the number of unique mobile subscribers growing by 18% annually over the last five years and it's also a diverse environment. We're looking forward to Mobile 360-Africa and exploring how mobile is driving digital and financial inclusion in the region, for the benefit of citizens, businesses and governments alike," says Michael O'Hara, Chief Marketing Officer, GSMA.
