

Joe Public appointed to handle eBuck's brand strategy and media planning eBucks, South Africa's leading rewards programme, has appointed Joe Public's brand and media planning divisions to handle all aspects of its communication strategy. The appointment is the result of a highly successful three year relationship in which the agency was previously responsible for the development of all above and below-the-line elements.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>