

SA Dance magazine appoints new Managing Editor and Deputy Editor

SA Dance magazine has appointed Surita Grobbelaar as Managing Editor and Nelson Bandura, ex-Sundowns goalkeeper and renowned journalist, as Deputy Editor.

Dancing is the third largest participation sport in the country and can currently boast three World Championship couples right here in South Africa. SA Dance magazine, which covers all forms of dance, including Latin, Ballroom, Ballet, Modern, Hip Hop, Freestyle, Traditional, Kwaito, Spanish and Gumboot, is the only of its kind in the country. The magazine has just reached its fourth birthday and distribution has doubled over the last year to 10,000 copies per issue. It is distributed through all the major bookstores and news agents countrywide.
