

New release from Groote Post

The new vintages of the Old Man's Blend range have been released by Groote Post, a wine farm on the Cape West Coast.

- Groote Post The Old Man's Blend White 2011 retails for R44
- Groote Post The Old Man's Blend Red 2010 retails for R49
- Groote Post The Old Man's Sparkle Brut Rosé retails for R83

The Old Man's Blend range came into being in 2001 at the behest of Groote Post's 'Old Man', Peter Pentz, who asked the family to blend him a red wine to enjoy as his winter evening tipple. The blend's popularity established a Groote Post tradition, with a similar red blend bottled annually under the label. The other two were subsequently added to the range.

For more information, got www.grootepost.com.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>