

Livewired PR wins two major tech brands

Livewired Public Relations has won two major global accounts recently, namely Aspect Software and Alcatel-Lucent Enterprise.

Both companies work within the tech industry, however sit in different fields. Aspect Software is a global provider of customer contact solutions, has its global headquarters in North America and is a privately held company. While Alcatel-Lucent Enterprise with headquarters in France, is a leader in communications, networking and cloud solutions for businesses of all sizes, serving more than 500,000 customers across the globe.
