

Launch of newsletter from Frost & Sullivan

Frost & Sullivan has launched its growth, innovation and leadership community newsletter to provide subscribers with industry news, market insights, best practices intelligence, identification of companies recognised by its analysts as best in class and a listing of live and virtual events.

This portal of thought leadership and research information functions as a personalised website, which can be customised to suit the individual's needs and interests. Members have the opportunity to receive emerging market information, insights into global mega trends and technical advancements and updates on the latest industry research.

This customised web page will be updated to reflect the most recent industry intelligence.

Industry knowledge

The newsletter tracks the following industries:

- Aerospace & defence
- Automotive & transportation
- Business & financial services
- Chemicals, materials & food
- Electronics & security
- Energy & power systems
- Environment & building technologies
- Healthcare
- Industrial automation & process control
- Information & communication technologies
- Measurement & instrumentation

To register, go to <http://discover.frost.com/forms/GONRegistrationForm>.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>