

Traffic Clothing to hold fashion show at Canal Walk

Traffic Clothing will be giving a preview to its offerings when it holds a Summer Fashion Show at Canal Walk Centre Court on 9 November, 2012, at 7pm. Key trends for the summer season include: bright tropical, graphic print, neon, denim, and swimwear.

MC for the evening, Leigh-Anne Williams, Espresso presenter and Good Hope FM news reader, will introduce the summer themes and the entertainment throughout the show. Models by 20management will be transformed into Traffic Clothing goddesses with the help of Kavanagh's Hair Studio, Kohl Make-up and Traffic Clothing's very own fashion guru, Gareth Botha.

Guests will be greeted upon arrival with canapés served by Café Magnifico and are invited to enjoy a Scheckter's Organic drink, while being treated to music in preparation for the display of clothes. Spot prizes are up for grabs (thank you, Nu Metro Canal Walk), but only if you bring your business card for the lucky draw.
