

Dave Sayer appointed professional services manager for Edge Consulting

Dave Sayer has been appointed professional services manager for Edge Consulting. Dave manages all business consulting services, IT consulting and integration services including software integration both internally and externally. Dave was previously head of the IBM services division established within Edge; a division which stemmed from SCS Africa.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>