

Johnson & Johnson receives recognition for partnership with Unjani Clinics

Johnson & Johnson SA won gold in the American Chamber of Commerce (AMCHAM) Stars of Africa Awards in acknowledgement of its partnership with Unjani Clinics.

The company has funded Unjani Clinics in establishing clinics for black professional female nurses that help meet the healthcare needs of local communities in South Africa.

The AMCHAM Stars of Africa Awards invites AMCHAM members to submit and showcase the work they are doing in the space of health and wellness, community development and welfare, education, training, and skills development.
