#TransportMonth sees free training for 200 truck drivers

In support of Transport Month, Mercedes-Benz Trucks is offering free driver training to 200 Mercedes-Benz truck drivers.

The selected drivers' skills will be sharpened by FleetBoard Professional Driver Training, which provides tailor-made training programmes that contribute to the drivers' development.

New heavy-duty trucks run on liquefied natural gas, biogas

11 Oct 2017

"It is imperative for us as Mercedes-Benz Trucks to ensure that our transport system is increasingly safer. FleetBoard Professional Driver Training yields highly-competent drivers that have been trained, tested and trusted," says Jasper Hafkamp, executive director for Daimler Trucks and Buses Southern Africa.

"Besides positively contributing to the growth of South Africa's economy, safety is also of paramount importance to us," he added.

The training can be booked immediately, until the end of the year. For more, contact Megen Naidoo on megenthran.naidoo@daimler.com or call 012 677 1744.

For more, visit: https://www.bizcommunity.com