

Aegis Media appoint Gillian O'Mahoney as chief financial officer

O'Mahoney joins the Aegis team as a very experienced financial person with over a decade's experience in the communications industry and some key achievements under her belt. She has recently returned from London where she was the Global CFO of Hall & Partners Group, Omnicom Group Inc.'s independent research consultancy. As Aegis continues its growth and expansion across Africa her experience in not only financial, but legal and due diligence will stand the company in good stead.
