

EMC SA leader in 2015 Gartner Magic Quadrant

EMC South Africa security division has announced that Gartner has named RSA Archer as leaders in the quadrant for operational risk management. The report is part of Gartner's OneGRC research programme. The OneGRC programme uses a case-based methodology to review government, risk management and compliance technology; instead of the traditional enterprise GRC Magic Quadrant methodology. RSA Archer's placement extends its previous placement as a leader for operational risk management, and shows momentum in GRC and operational risk. Part of the evaluation process included customer reviews of RSA Archer's technology capabilities.
