

Vox Telecom awarded two top awards

Vox Telecom was awarded YahClick Service Partner of the Year and Marketing Excellence awards at the YahClick Service Partner Forum in Abu Dhabi, UAE. YahClick is a satellite broadband service provider. The YahClick Service Partner of the Year award was given to Vox Telecom in recognition of their consistent levels of excellence across all aspects of the YahClick business. Their operational excellence, high quality of installations and highly responsive customer service department was also applauded. Vox has also invested in an aggressive marketing campaign using multi-platform approach of billboards, social media, radio campaigns and print adverts. Their commitment to their marketing campaigns led to their second win for the evening. The award nominations came from within YahClick and were reviewed by an evaluation committee for the final selection.
