

New assistant publisher for New Media

Jason Curtis has recently been appointed assistant publisher at customer publisher New Media (NMP). Curtis joins NMP after five years with The Publishing Partnership.

Curtis will work on titles The Pinnacle for Pinnacle Point Holdings, Netcare magazine for Netcare, Roots for FNB, Xplore for Mitsubishi Motors SA, as well as Mercedes and Transport for Mercedes-Benz SA.

Says publishing director Andrew Nunneley, "It's a great pleasure to welcome Jason to NMP and I have no doubt his knowledge and experience will add tremendously to this premium portfolio and to the company as a whole. Jason certainly has plenty of talent and, most importantly, plenty of passion for magazines.

Curtis worked on numerous magazines at The Publishing Partnership, including Sea Rescue, Heart and Pulse among others, prior to which he was editor and publisher of Top Forty and Channel O magazines.

With a passion for publishing as well as music, Curtis is committed to contributing to the two by sitting on the MPASA PICA Committee and as judge of the South African Music Awards (SAMA). He also regularly freelances as a music writer and journalist.