

Clear Strategy achieves Level 1 BBBEE

Clear Strategy has recently completed its BBBEE accreditation, achieving Level 1 (135% recognition level). This reflects an improvement from Level 3 in its previous accreditation and the company is excited that its hard work has paid off. To provide sound, practical and promptly executed market research, clear and information directed marketing strategy development and management consulting across an ever-widening spectrum of markets, three engineers established the company in 1997.
