

Facebook competition offers R25,000 to school

Legal & Tax, a provider of affordable legal cover and tax services, has just launched its 25,000 reasons to 'Like' your school Facebook competition, which will result in a Gauteng school being awarded R25,000.

The competition opened this week for nominations and voting will start on 28 January 2013. One lucky voter will also win a cash prize of R5000.

Once fans have nominated a school on Facebook, they can help it to get the votes it needs to win by tweeting the nomination to #backtoschool @LegalandTax and asking their followers to vote for their school of choice.

"Over the years, thousands of people have shown their belief in us by making us a leader in the legal insurance industry and now we want to give back to the community through this competition," says Benjy Porter, CEO at Legal & Tax.

"We see this competition as an extension of our business getting ordinary people through those difficult moments in their lives whether it be a motor vehicle accident, an unfair dismissal or a building dispute."

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>