SEACOM celebrated its Foundation Day on Monday 23 July 2012, by giving back to the community through its Solution Quest, beginning with Tembisa Secondary High School. This is a three-month social collaboration and mentorship programme where its employees will work with selected scholars to help them create their own interventions to address the largest socio-economic issues affecting their lives. "We were excited to mark the third anniversary of our entrance into the market by giving something back to the people in the countries where we have offices," says Mark Simpson, CEO of SEACOM.
