More info:

The history of the Alto Red Wine Estate dates back to 1693, when it formed part of the larger Groenrivier farm granted by Simon van der Stel. Wine only became the farm's focus in the 1920s when the Malan family began to transform the untamed land into vineyards.

The Latin name for Alto is a reference to the altitudes of the vineyards and the estate's own aspirations of excellence. Since 1920, only four winemakers have crafted the Alto portfolio of internationally acclaimed red wines.
