

Line-up announced for White Mountain Festival

This year's White Mountain Festival will be held from 24 to 28 September, 2014, at White Mountain Lodge, near Giant's Castle, just 25km off the N3 on tarred roads.

Included on the bill are the likes of Kahn (front man for The Parlotones) performing brand new songs off his debut solo album, as well as Michael Lowman, Majazi and two of South Africa's top female singer-songwriters, Laurie Levine and Josie Field, with their award-winning Side by Side tandem show.

Also featured are American singer-songwriter Brett Newski and Australian duo Guy & The Fox, a collaboration that brings together the Celtic influences and fierce playing style of violinist Amelia Gibson and the skill and showmanship of Gyy, a Canberra-based singer-songwriter-guitarist who holds the titles of Australian National Busking Champion and ACT Best Blues & Roots Artist for 2013.

Visitors can also look forward to colourful arts and crafts, a wide variety of food outlets and a beer market featuring several local craft breweries - all set against a backdrop of the scenic central Drakensberg.

Tickets are available at Computicket and include camping.
