

Glenlivet to bring jazz to Sun Met with its JazzTown Marquee

Glenlivet Whisky will introduce the Glenlivet JazzTown Marquee at the 2018 Sun Met. The Sun Met will be held at the Kenilworth Race Course in Cape Town on 27 January 2018.

The performance line-up at the JazzTown Marquee will be led by Judith Sephuma and Jimmy Nevis along with a string of country's jazz musicians and rising talent in the local jazz arena.

Dubbed the queen of Afro-jazz, Sephuma is known for her multi-status selling jazz albums and her platinum-status selling gospel album The Experience Live in Concert. Her sultry, melodic voice has dominated airwaves since the release of her triple platinum-status selling debut album A Cry, A Smile, A Dance in 2001.

With his quirky lyrics, soulful vocals, catchy melodies and inimitable musical style, Jimmy Nevis is the darling of the local music front. He recently released his third studio album - Quarter Life Crisis - which maintains his high standards as he constantly strives to exceed his and everyone else's expectations.

These two musicians will share the stage with some of Mzansi's most admired jazz musicians, among them young and happening jazz/soul musician Ndumiso Manana, Standard Bank Young Artist-Jazz award-winner Mark Fransman and DJ Joy Mode aka Joey Modiba, whose soulful jazz house beats transcend musical genres. Also on the line-up are two-time Metro FM Music award-winning jazz vocalist Nomfundo Xaluvu, Cape Town's original 'saxy vibes' wizard Don Vino and musical maestro Khenzero – aka Kenneth Bekizizwe Nzama.

Glenlivet Whisky brand manager Eugene Lenford says: "With the Glenlivet JazzTown, the idea is to bring original and world-class South African jazz to the mix at Africa's richest race day - for the first time - while offering guests the ultimate social experience. As the world's original single malt, we set the standard for whisky worldwide, and with that, we set out to create deeper and more meaningful experiences that make life more rewarding. This is what the Glenlivet JazzTown is all about."

Tickets to the Glenlivet JazzTown Marquee are available now at R3,500 per person. Tickets may be booked online at www.jazztown.nutickets.co.za. Alternatively, email david@aireygroup.co.za or call 083 564 9400.
