Vox Telecom wins SMB Partner of the year award

Vox Telecom has won the award for Server Message Block Partner of the year in Southern Europe and Middle East Africa at the annual Alcatel-Lucent Enterprise Partner Day. The ALE is an event dedicated to strengthening growth between the company and its partners. Vox Telecom was selected over other nominees based on their achievements in the adoption and execution of ALE technologies as well as a strong sales drive in their markets.

For more, visit: https://www.bizcommunity.com