

Sweet new taste of Cape Town nightlife

Cape Town has its own Sugarhut Club, featuring themed bar areas, laid-back lounges and fusion food, which has opened in the East City Precinct. Taking inspiration from the UK-based franchise of the same name, it comprises a series of individually themed zones open from Tuesday to Sunday from 5pm.

The interior design team, from local design agency Sugar Bakers, created variety within the space in order to appeal to different moods, tastes and mindsets. The Birdcage Room features a collection of birdcages as an original centrepiece, opulent patterned wallpaper and checkerboard flooring. The Peacock Lounge takes its name from striking peacock blue cushions and The Opium Den is all about the esoteric, with raised oversize couches and a mystical gold Buddha.

The Sugarhut Club will be open from Friday the 21 January 2011.
