

#BeautifulNews: Tour guide leads the way for community upliftment

They dance, laugh, and embrace. Though they've never met before and might not see each other again, community members of Cape Town's informal settlements are sharing touching experiences with tourists. In these townships, there are myriad problems from unemployment to poor healthcare and lack of housing. Not enough money goes towards creating or finding solutions. With this in mind, Xolani Maseko is pursuing a livelihood that uplifts people's conditions and lives.
