

Sound On Screen Music Film Festival opens this week

The Sound on Screen Music Film Festival opens on Friday, 2 December 2011, at the Labia Theatre, 68 Orange Street, Gardens in Cape Town until 9 December. It goes online on 10 December. It is described as South Africa's first dedicated music-themed film festival, which will include documentaries, biopics and concert films covering a wide range of artists and genres, from abroad and locally. Most movies will make their South African theatrical debut.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>