

Seychelles joins the pan-African e-network project

Seychelles is the second African country, after Senegal, to join the $1 billion pan-African e-network project initiated by the Indian government.

The project aims to develop the continent information and communication technologies. Seychelles is expected to benefit through the tele-medicine programs, e-learning and teleconferencing facility for the head of state.

Read the full article here

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>