

M-Net Magic in Motion Academy open for 2017 entries

M-Net will run its Magic in Motion Academy programme for 2017 and host a four-day Magic in Motion Career Expo for aspiring young learners, as well as a new scholarship programme. It is taking on 12 interns for the 2017 class, which aims to develop a talent pool while growing capacity in the film and television industry, and simultaneously cultivating homegrown content.

Applicants must apply directly to M-Net before 31 January 2017 should they wish to participate in the 2017 Magic in Motion Academy.

The Magic in Motion Academy interns will receive hands-on training in producing, directing, cinematograph production commissioning, concept creation, script writing, sound, art direction, editing, post-production and more. The course has been designed to bridge the gap between theoretical knowledge and practical implementation in order to produce highly employable professionals.

Upon completion of the 12-month curriculum, M-Net will choose three exceptional interns to produce their own films with funding from M-Net and, as in years past, some of these movies could find their way onto a small screen.

The Magic in Motion Academy begins in May 2017 in Johannesburg under the guidance of Academy director, Bobby Heaney and M-Net CSI and skills development manager, Ashika Kirpal.
