Bizcommunity.com 30 Jun 2021

This year, Cannes Lions went online for the first time and Ann Nurock and some of SA's leading creatives, who were all category judges at this year's festival, watched the talks by global thought leaders, analysed award-winning campaigns and identified key themes, to bring you their insights at Cannes Lions Trends Talks 2021 taking place online Thursday, 22 July.

“ Get the inside scoop on what's really cutting through with audiences, as well as what's steering the direction for local and global creative communities. – Cannes Lions ”

Find out about the 42% of consumers who make up the global Accenture study who said they would switch brands from providers who did not have relevant societal impact, and curated examples of the award-winning work with analysis. Ann Nurock presents her annual case studies, which show how creativity continues to be a driver in identifying and addressing some of the world's most urgent problems.

“The work this year was really fresh, not because it was new, but because it was more human. Work that solved problems delivered a better ROI,” Ann Nurock, senior partner: Relationship Audits Management industry advocate and Cannes Lions reporter.
