The new decade means:

Starting again, with a new perspective. I feel good about the future.

Fame is about:

Having the ability to make a difference on a great scale

Retirement will happen when:

When I need a walking stroller to move from one place to another.

🎵 I don't do:

Negative attitudes during the creative process. I find it toxic and demotivating. When we create, we're aiming to create something amazing.

🎵 What does music mean to you?

🎵 My music is about:

Experimenting with different genres my music is about love, relationships, fantasy and experiences throughout my life.

I draw my inspiration from people around me and my overall appreciation for art.

🎵 What is the most enjoyable aspect of your work?

Learning from those around me and having real conversations with artists and musicians, which allows everyone in the room to see things from more than one perspective.

‡ The song you must do in every show?

Valerie by Amy Winehouse.

‡ Any funny moments on stage?

My keyboard switched off while doing a live recording, the show had to go on and I just had to smile and mime until the sound team sorted out the technical issue.

My laptop.

I'd want to be a psychologist.

Zoe Kravits because she is pretty empowering in personality and on screen. She also looks like she can k butt!
