

New iPhone, iPod accessories

XtremeMac's new series of InCharge power solutions for iPhone and iPod deliver faster charge times and greater functionality and mobility.

The series will be available at select retailers nationwide and at xtrememac.com with select styles starting March 2010. Its product line also includes accessories to protect and play the units. The new Microshield Mix cases offer premium protection and style for the iPhone with a hard outer shell and soft inner liner that prevents scratches and offers protection against trapped dust and dirt.

"Like the innovative nature of the Apple brand, we are committed to helping enhance our consumers' experience by always staying at the forefront of design," said Bob Garthwaite, GM, Imation Electronic Products. "This forward thinking is evident in all aspects of the brand, from the new products we are launching, to our recent website redesign and packaging refresh."

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>